I've secretly loved Christmas songs	My wedding included traditions from other cultures	My family argues about the preferred latke topping: sugar, sour cream, or applesauce	I don't have family in Israel	I don't yet feel at home in Israel
I've experienced mild to serious injuries making Hanukkah latkes	I've been asked "Are you Jewish?" by a Chabadnik	I've secretly loved Kosher for Pesach desserts	I've wished a Chabadnik would ask me "Are you Jewish?"	I own B'nai Mitzvah swag older than 10 years old
My opinion is that 'JAP' is a derogatory term	I've made paper chains for Sukkot in Hebrew school		I've never been sure what Shmini Atzeret actually is	I've eaten at a Chabad house while travelling
I didn't grow up with a Jewish education	I've broken a well-known Jewish stereotype (share the stereotype)	I've lied about part of my Jewishness, Israeliness, or connection to Israel while travelling	My way of practicing Judaism is different from how I was raised	I've heard the weirdest question from someone who isn't Jewish about Jews (share the question)
My Jewish community comes with baggage for me	I'm still figuring out how I want to create my Jewish future	I've looked up actors on Wikipedia to see if they're Jewish	My Bar/Bat Mitzvah experience was traumatic	I've used 10 plague puppets

I've wished a Chabadnik would ask me "Are you Jewish?"	I've been to Jewish summer camp	I've experienced mild to serious injuries making Hanukkah latkes	I've secretly loved Kosher for Pesach desserts	I didn't grow up with a Jewish education
My family argues about the preferred latke topping: sugar, sour cream, or applesauce	I've felt joy being part of a Jewish community	I've lied about part of my Jewishness, Israeliness, or connection to Israel while travelling	I've made paper chains for Sukkot in Hebrew school	I have family members who practice another religion
I don't yet feel at home in Israel	My opinion is that 'JAP' is a derogatory term		I've broken a well-known Jewish stereotype (share the stereotype)	I've thought twice about identifying as Jewish in public spaces
I've gotten lost following the Hebrew in a siddur	My way of practicing Judaism is different from how I was raised	I've eaten at a Chabad house while travelling	I've secretly loved Christmas songs	My wedding was very Jewish
I've looked up actors on Wikipedia to see if they're Jewish	I own B'nai Mitzvah swag older than 10 years old	I've heard the weirdest question from someone who isn't Jewish about Jews (share the question)	I've been learning how diverse today's Jewish world really is	I've used 10 plague puppets
